ing been again put into the vitriol box, testified to having written out the obvious document, which was headed "Agreement between E. W. Blackwood and A. Chow." He had no authority from Mr. Blackwood in doing, and had in fact been blamed for an employer telling him he had no business for themselves.

20.—Chinese producer pays two duties, export duty at the port of export, and the duty at the port of import, the latter, we think, should be dispensed with.

21.—The opening of the Yellow River to foreign trade and steam navigation, would pay the dues which may be laid down by used Treaties.

Art. XXIV. and XXVIII, and Rule That foreigners shall only pay duties in conformity with the stipulations of the treaties aforesaid, and not be required to pay any indirect or illegal charges in transit.

Pinkerton, seaman on board the ship Fleming, deposed that on the 9th of May he went to the Sailors' Home. It was a fine day. He saw a boy running to the steps, which attracted his attention.

that as could dance no more remarks he would leave the matter of the jury.

Money-General in reply submitted that he had no right to deal with deceased one. Lawful acts must be done in manner, and if prisoner had the property he had no right to do a lawful
